

Is it illegal to install solar power for private use

Overview

It is generally legal across the US to install your own solar energy equipment, though state and local regulations can impose strict limits on how and where you do so. Most places in the country require your DIY solar setup to be permitted and inspected before you can legally operate. Is Installing Solar Panels Illegal in Any State?

Technically, no state outlaws or bans solar panels; quite the opposite. Most states have solar access laws that forbid any agreement, covenant, condition, bylaw, or contract that outlaws or limits solar installations by Homeowners Associations (HOA). Solar access laws can take different forms but include any law that protects your access to installing solar. That usually means banning a homeowners association from restricting solar panels in a way that significantly affects the cost of solar or the solar panels' performance. This endeavor is subject to a comprehensive framework of regulations and.
