Overview

The short answer is yes, solar panels do work when it's cloudy, but they don't make as much power. Heavy cloud coverage can reduce the amount of sunlight reaching the panels. So, it does decrease the energy output. Factors such as panel quality and system setup. Solar panels, also known as photovoltaic (PV) panels, harness the photons in sunlight through their solar cells and convert them into electricity. When determining if going solar is right for you, you'll need to consider the price, type of panel and wattage — and choose a solar company with the. Even on overcast days, the atmosphere contains a significant amount of diffuse radiation, which is sufficient to maintain system generation.
