

Solar panel rental scam exposed

Overview

If you've received an offer for "free solar panels," it could be a scam. Always look for businesses you can trust - like Accredited Businesses using the BBB Seal. Someone contacts you through email, phone, social media, or even in person pretending to be a solar company. Scams, schemes and straight-up fraud abound in the dark underbelly of an otherwise light-filled industry. There are no federal government giveaways for solar panel installations, and no company is required to offer them for. Con artists use misleading sales tactics and lies to trick homeowners out of money and personal information. Someone contacts you. Did a salesperson knock on your door and promise free rooftop solar panels at no cost to you?

Or say you'll never have to pay another electricity bill because government programs, grants, or rebates cover your solar installation?

It's likely a scam. The criminals are leaving unsuspecting homeowners with massive debt; many victims have reported losing tens of thousands of dollars. If it sounds too good to be true, it probably is.
